

Annual Idaho Department of Juvenile Corrections Prison Rape Elimination Act Report

2025

History

The Idaho Department of Juvenile Corrections (IDJC) has long embraced the principles supported by the Prison Rape Elimination Act of 2003 (PREA). Years before PREA was passed, IDJC had policies and training sessions on prohibited contact and inappropriate relationships to prevent sexual abuse within its facilities and contract providers. IDJC ensures that contract providers used by the Department to provide services to juveniles outside of the three state facilities adopt a similar stance against any incidents of sexual abuse or sexual harassment (zero tolerance).

After the passage of the final PREA standards, the IDJC pooled resources to create a PREA Implementation Team (PIT). Subsequent to the formation of the PIT, IDJC's PREA Coordinator and Deputy Attorney General assigned to IDJC trained both direct care and administrative staff on obligations under PREA. The PIT refined policies and procedures to further promote a zero-tolerance culture towards sexual abuse and sexual harassment.

Standards

The PREA standards are grouped into 11 categories: prevention planning; responsive planning; training and education; screening for risk of sexual victimization and abusiveness; reporting; official response following a resident report; investigations; discipline; medical and mental care; data collection and review; and audits. The standards contain 182 separate items and contains multiple requirements. Full compliance with the standards will require not only extensive documentation of the agency's efforts to achieve zero tolerance for sexual abuse and sexual harassment, but evidence that these efforts are embraced and in practice. The corrective action period following the audit allows time for the facilities operated by the IDJC to correct deficiencies and come into compliance.

Corrective action is taken, depending on the outcome of the investigation into a report of sexual abuse or sexual harassment, to protect the juveniles in the Department's custody. Results of investigations are used to determine if changes are necessary in the facilities. These changes may include, but are not limited to, policies, procedures, physical plant characteristics, staffing, shifts, trainings, personnel assignments, and supervision.

The overall institutionalization of a zero-tolerance culture amongst juveniles and staff has become well embedded.

Moving Forward

In 2012, the National PREA Standards for Juvenile Facilities were released, stating that within 1 year, a 3 year audit cycle would start, requiring 1/3 of all applicable juvenile facilities under the control of the executive branch receive an audit. The IDJC has since done the following:

- 1) In 2013 the IDJC contracted for an audit of PREA compliance at JCC-St. Anthony
- 2) In 2014 all corrective action planning was completed and St. Anthony was determined to be 100% PREA compliant
- 3) In 2015 JCC-Nampa and JCC-Lewiston received their compliance audits and upon completion of their corrective actions were determined to be 100% PREA compliant.
- 4) In 2015 the IDJC Leadership determined that IDJC would no longer contract for residential services with private contractors that were not PREA compliant.
- 5) In 2015 several qualifying private residential contract providers independently contracted for and received PREA compliance audits, eventually certifying them as fully PREA compliant.
- 6) In 2016 the 2nd 3 year audit cycle began and IDJC contracted for St. Anthony to receive its 2nd PREA compliance audit.
- 7) In 2017 all corrective action planning was completed and St. Anthony was determined to be 100% PREA compliant
- 8) In 2017 JCC-Nampa and JCC-Lewiston received their compliance audits and upon completion of their corrective actions were determined to be 100% PREA compliant.
- 9) In 2018 IDJC retrained all staff on their requirements under PREA and all 3 state facilities updated their Staffing Plan documents.
- 10) In 2020 IDJC hired an independent contractor to assess the staff to youth ratio (PREA Ratio) required within the standards. IDJC included PREA ratio in policies and facility staffing plans.
- 11) In 2021 the legislature approved funding for the construction of residential housing in St. Anthony that shifted the population from open dorms to individual rooms, as well as increased shower and bathroom privacy.
- 12) In 2024 JCC-Nampa received their compliance audits and upon completion of their corrective actions were determined to be 100% PREA compliant in January of 2025.

For each of the audits at the state facilities listed above, the IDJC has intentionally utilized a different auditor from the field. The IDJC values the wide perspectives on the interpretation of the intent of the standard as well as the variety of experience the different auditors have brought. The IDJC will continue to contract for PREA compliance audits pursuant to the Department of Justice requirement that audits occur on a 3 year audit cycle. These audits have continued to help IDJC further improve its processes regarding zero tolerance of juvenile sexual abuse and sexual harassment. IDJC has also provided assistance to its various contract providers to ensure that PREA compliance is occurring at an appropriate level.

The IDJC realizes the importance of continuing efforts to maintain a zero tolerance towards sexual abuse and sexual harassment. The IDJC will continue to foster an agency culture that embraces the rights of all juveniles to be free from sexual abuse and sexual harassment. IDJC will seek opportunities to strengthen the PREA standards within the foundation of the organization.
